DANIELSON

Police and a representative of the state motor vehicle department were engaged on Friday investigating the report that a man was struck by an automobile and rendered unconscious in an accident at Attawapigan crossing Thursday night.

The case is surrounded by rather strange circumstances, it being claimed that the injured man, whose name is not known, was picked up by the party of the motor vehicle and carried away. Chief Michael Grimshaw said Friday afternoon that there is a mill worker missing from Attawapigan and that his hat and pipe, picked up on the ground near the place where the mishap occurred, are in the possession of a man who saw the accident.

Chief Grimshaw also stated that he was given to understand by his father, Constable Michael Grimshaw of Attawapigan, who is also investigating the case, that the man in the machine gave a name that has since been found to have been a fictitious one.

The name of a man who drives a car and who is a resident of Danielson. The Danielson man's car was not out of the garage Thursday night, however, as it is the same make of car as the man had at the time of the accident.

Those who claim to have seen the accident say that it happened just about the time that a late south bound car arrived at Attawapigan from Putnam. The men say that the man who saw the accident was from near the trolley tracks, which run in the highway at this point, to the New Haven road tracks and was hurrying toward the trolley tracks.

The men in the car that hit him, picked him up and put him in the car and drove away with him.

PUTNAM

Hon. John P. Kellogg, one of the new judges of the superior court, was here Friday and held a short calendar session of the superior court. A few cases were assigned and an uncontested divorce case heard. Judge Kellogg said that he would not call the jury at this time, as it has been found in other counties that a jury can be assembled now only with difficulty, especially where farmers are called upon to give time, and men in many other lines are exceedingly busy.

The cases that are assigned for trial are court cases and are to be tried as follows: First case for Thursday, September 5, John Chudak vs. Annie Koss; second case for Thursday, September 5, Alva J. Dixon vs. Byron M. Lewis; first case for Thursday, September 12, Louis J. Sylvester, Danielson, vs. Francis Downing, Moosup; second case for Thursday, September 12, Arnold R. Stoner, Woodstock vs. Harold A. Copeland, Brooklyn.

A special assignment for September 19 was made in the case of John Conley, et al. vs. Horation Hunt, et al., extra. In this case counsel and witnesses will come from California. The uncontested divorce heard was that of Mrs. Gladys Malone vs. Albert Malbone, Danielson, where the couple were married twelve years ago, and have since lived in Malbone, where she was given the custody of the child.

Judge W. F. Woodward of the town court of Killington was called as a witness in Mrs. Malbone's case and produced the records of his court, showing repeated arrests of Malbone on charges of having been intoxicated. Attorney Elbert L. Darbie, Danielson, was another witness who testified as to Malbone's habits of intoxication over a period of years. Judge Arthur G. Hill of Danielson was counsel for Mrs. Malbone.

Padgett, chairman of Putnam's fuel committee, has issued a communication in which he calls attention to the fact that the lightless nights of the winter are being so thoroughly obeyed in this city as should be the case; and that in some business places lights in windows are allowed to burn during evenings when no window lights should be used.

Lieut. Edward F. Perri, M. D., serving in France as a member of the United States Medical corps, has written an interesting letter relative to his interest in the service. Dr. Perri says he has now acquired that state of mind wherein he cares not where his orders take him for he finds that all of the work is interesting.
